

MARIST OVERVIEW

Marist College is located on a 180-acre campus that overlooks the majestic Hudson River midway between New York City and Albany, in Poughkeepsie, New York. Founded in 1929, the College is accredited by the Middle States Association of Colleges and Schools, Commission on Higher Education, and recognized by the U.S. Department of Education. The Princeton Review named Marist one of the best 371 colleges in the country and Forbes and The Princeton Review call Marist one of the “25 most connected campuses” in America. U.S. News & World Report consistently places Marist in its top tier. Kiplinger’s Personal Finance and Barron’s call us one of the nation’s best buys in college education. The John Templeton Foundation placed us on its elite honor roll of only 100 academic institutions noted for teaching character development.

MARIST SCHOOL OF MANAGEMENT

In a 2009 survey of over 19,000 business students, Entrepreneur Magazine and The Princeton Review named Marist College’s School of Management as a top 15 school for general management programs. The School is also listed as one of the top 290 business schools in the world by The Princeton Review. Both the undergraduate and graduate business programs at Marist are accredited by AACSB International (Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business), the premier accrediting organization for business schools worldwide. Only thirty percent of all business programs in the United States have earned this prestigious recognition for high quality standards relating to curriculum, faculty resources, admissions, degree requirements, library and computer facilities, financial resources, and a mission-linked intellectual climate. In addition, Marist College holds the distinction of being the first college in New York State to offer its Master of Business Administration (MBA) program exclusively online.

PARTNERSHIP

Marist College is proud to announce a special academic partnership for the employees of New York State Criminal Justice Agencies -- a group of local, state, and federal organizations which share our commitment to diversity and place a high value on the importance of community and the principle of service. The goal of this partnership is to provide a high-quality education and professional development services to assist uniformed and civilian criminal justice agency employees in achieving their professional goals. As a result of this partnership, individuals employed by criminal justice agencies as defined by the New York State Division of Criminal Justice Services will have the opportunity to receive special tuition benefits for graduate and adult undergraduate degree programs offered at the Marist College main campus in Poughkeepsie, our satellite locations in New York City, Albany, Oneida, or online.

QUALITY EDUCATION

The best affirmation of who we are and what we do comes from our current students and alumni. Whether you are studying online or on-campus, you will experience a strong sense of community, a feeling that was fostered from our early years by our founders, the Marist Brothers. Small classes mean you get to know your professors and they get to know you. You’re not a student ID number; you’re a person, learning from faculty who are the best minds and practitioners in their fields. You will establish a network of professional peers and be able to immediately apply classroom content to the work environment.

MARIST-NYS CRIMINAL JUSTICE AGENCIES ONLINE MASTER OF PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION (MPA) FLEXIBLE COHORT DEGREE PROGRAM

The MPA degree is especially relevant for health care, criminal justice, and human service professionals, as well as those interested in public sector and non-profit administration. The curriculum, based on standards from the National Association of Schools of Public Affairs and Administration (NASPAA), stresses:

- understanding the political, legal, ethical and social context of administration with respect to pertinent processes and theories;
- achieving proficiency in understanding and developing positive organizational behavior, as well as in effectively utilizing a full range of management and administrative techniques;
- developing the ability to apply appropriate methodologies to solve important problems and issues. These methods include quantitative and qualitative approaches to policy analysis and to program evaluation.

Marist College has offered the MPA degree since 1980 and, for 20 years, has partnered with law enforcement agencies in New York City, Albany, and Oneida to bring the program on-site and online to their respective departments. In recent years, Marist has extended its academic relationships to include national professional associations such as the National Organization for Black Law Enforcement Executives (NOBLE) and Women in Federal Law Enforcement (WIFLE) and law enforcement organizations in Florida, California, and beyond. As part of the academic partnership between Marist College and New York State Criminal Justice Agencies, the MPA will be delivered as an online flexible degree program exclusively for law enforcement personnel.

MPA PROGRAM STRUCTURE

Marist's MPA flexible cohort degree program is designed exclusively for law enforcement personnel and combines accelerated scheduling and a reduced pricing structure with the flexibility and convenience of Marist's online course delivery system. Students in this program represent a diverse mix of law enforcement professionals from local, state, and federal agencies throughout New York State and the nation. This combination of experience provides for an intensely rich and beneficial learning experience and allows students the opportunity to widen their professional networks.

The MPA program is comprised of 39-42 credits of graduate coursework (13-14 courses). Students with less than two years of work experience in the public or non-profit sectors will be required to complete a Public Administration internship. Fall and spring courses are eight weeks in length and summer courses are six weeks. Semester breaks are included. The entire graduate degree program can be completed in just over two years.

As part of existing courses, students will have the opportunity to participate in three residencies. Two-day residencies are held at the start and close of the program on the Marist College campus in Poughkeepsie, New York, as part of MPA500 Introduction to Public Administration and MPA699 Public Administration Seminar. The third residency involves attending an approved professional conference or meeting.

Students will be brought together at each residency to foster collaborative working and learning and, as a by-product, help to establish a larger network of law enforcement professionals throughout the United States.

For detailed course descriptions, please visit www.marist.edu/mpa.

TUITION AND ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Tuition for employees of New York State Criminal Justice Agencies in the MPA flexible cohort degree program will be fixed at $333 per credit/$999 per course. Books, travel, and lodging for residencies are the responsibility of the student. Employees of New York State Criminal Justice Agencies interested in enrolling in the MPA at our satellite locations in New York City, Albany, or Oneida will receive the same tuition rate as those pursuing the online program. Employees and their families interested in any of Marist's other non-discounted graduate or adult undergraduate programs, will qualify for a 25% tuition reduction.
